

EVIDENCE IN DANIELS' CASE.

Hearing on the Charge is Resumed in the Police Court This Afternoon.

The preliminary examination of G. B. Daniels was resumed before Police Judge Smith at 2 o'clock this afternoon. T. M. Robinson, Chief Deputy in the Assessor's office, was recalled by the prosecution.

He was shown a book which he said was a working roll of the Assessor's office, also a book which he identified as a plat book.

"What is the difference between these books?" asked Allen.

"Considerable difference; the index is different and the headings different."

"Did the State Board of Equalization suggest the change in the form of these books?"

"No."

THE PLAT BOOK.

"Is this book indexed as a plat book to take the place of any mortgage book?" asked Allen.

Objection.

"Overruled," said the court.

"No," said the witness.

"Do you mean an old mortgage book, a new mortgage book or a mortgage book that has never been delivered?"

"Is it a class of book that would take the place of mortgage books?" persisted Allen.

"No."

Mr. Snook objected to this line of examination on the ground that it was immaterial and tended to contradict the theory of the prosecution. "It is the theory of the prosecution that the order for 50 books was substituted for the order given to Oakes," he said. "Now, is the District Attorney to come in here and contradict his own theory?"

"There were two orders given to Oakes," said Allen.

"We have repeatedly stated that Daniels came in and said the order for 50 plat books was to take the place of the Oakes order, but we never adopted any such theory," said Chapman.

Witness said all the books in evidence were supplied to the Assessor's office prior to August 15, 1901.

BOOKS IN USE.

"You had these plat books on the shelves and in use prior to August 15, 1901," asked Allen.

"Yes."

"For what purpose are these figures 1901 in one column, 1902 in another column, 1903 in a third column and 1904 in this last column of the mortgage?" asked Allen.

"To place the amount of the mortgages for those years," answered Robinson.

"Are not these books indexed for the years 1901, 1902, 1903, and 1904 sufficient to transact the business of the Assessor for those years?"

"If the number of mortgages was small they probably would."

"Would they be sufficient in your opinion?"

AN OBJECTION.

"I object because it is asking the opinion of the witness," said Snook.

"Witness is familiar with the business of the Assessor's office," said Allen, "and he knows whether the books are sufficient or not."

"If this era of prosperity continues there is no telling how many books

CHINESE PHYSICIAN WAS MURDERED.

TRIAL WAS IN PROGRESS WHEN A JUROR WAS TAKEN ILL.

SACRAMENTO, July 14.—The trial of Lee Lock charged with the murder in December last, of a Chinese physician named Suey Que Hing, came to a sudden ending in Judge Hart's department of the Superior Court this morning.

The taking of testimony was concluded last week and arguments were to have commenced this morning, but it was announced that one of the jurors had been taken ill.

The jury was then discharged and the case will have to be set for a future date.

The murder of the Chinese physician was the outgrowth of a quarrel between Highlander organizations. Another murder growing out of the killing of Dr. Hing, occurred on the night of the Fourth of July in Chinatown.

TWO JUDGES ARE NEEDED FOR COURT.

UNIQUE SITUATION IS NOW REPORTED IN ST. JOHN'S COURTS.

ST. JOHN'S, July 14.—Sir Joseph Tegant Little, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Newfoundland, died today at the age of 67. Owing to the resignation of Justice Donald Morrison which vacancy has not yet been filled, Sir Joseph Little's death leaves Justice George Henry Emerson the only surviving member of the Supreme Court bench. The situation is unique and calls for the early filling of the vacancies, two judges being necessary to constitute a full court.

Mr. Little was born in England, and was a member of the House of Commons. He was a member of the House of Commons for many years, and was a member of the House of Commons for many years.

CLAYTON BROUGHT BACK.

Edward Clayton, accused of murdering a woman out of $800, arrived here from Chicago last night.

NEW PREMIER OF ENGLAND WELL RECEIVED BY OFFICIALS.

Sir Hicks-Beach Resigns as Chancellor of the Exchequer.

LONDON, July 14.—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach has resigned as Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Perhaps never has a change of Premiership been effected with so little dislocation to business, either public or private, as accompanied the transfer of the seals of office from Lord Salisbury to A. J. Balfour. The occurrence had no effect whatever on the stock exchange. The only other change in the cabinet thus far announced is the Chancellorship of the Exchequer, though others are fore-shadowed.

LITTLE INTEREST SHOWN.

The public showed little interest in the meeting of Mr. Balfour's followers, which was summoned for noon. The new Premier, when he entered the conference room of the Foreign Office, accompanied by the Duke of Devonshire, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, Lord Londonderry and others, received quite an ovation.

CHEERED NEW CHIEF.

When Mr. Balfour arose to address the meeting, all again rose up and cheered the new chief. Mr. Balfour referred to the loss of the services of the chief who for nearly fifty years had been engaged in active political life. No one, he said, would begrudge him his well-earned repose, though his loss was irreparable.

"I do not flatter myself," proceeded the Premier, "that the gap he has left can be filled, but the place he has left must be occupied and it is because the King desired me to do my best to take the position, that I have asked you to meet me today."

ACCEPTS THE TASK.

"I have accepted a great task and a heavy responsibility, certainly not over-zealous belief in my own capacity but I am sure, or have every reason to believe, that in attempting to carry on this work I have the most important qualification a leader must have, namely, the regard and confidence of those with whom he works. I have not had the opportunity before of consulting you but I have of course consulted those with whom I have been working in the cabinet these many years and if the kindness you are prepared to extend me is at all equal to the kindness which you have shown to me, then indeed the terrors or difficulties I ought perhaps, to say, of the tasks before me are greatly mitigated.

"I cannot now promise myself that I shall have the continued assistance of my colleagues. One of the most important of them with whom I have been working in my political life and who has occupied and deserves the highest post in the House of Commons and State has told me that I cannot count on his further assistance. I mean the Chancellor of the Exchequer. But, though I grieve to say I cannot count with any assurance on his further assistance, I cannot count with absolute confidence on his good wishes in the labors that are before us."

At this juncture Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, amid applause signified his assent by crying heartily, "Hear, Hear."

"I have no more to say," continued Mr. Balfour, "but I have no more to say to all the members, or at all events, to the members of the House of Commons who are listening to me. I have no more to say to you, my friends, and so long that even were I disposed to dwell on this thing there is nothing I could say which would be of any use to you. The judgment already long ago formed."

MUST BE CHANGES.

"But if I have a personal nature to say at the present time, neither have I any pronouncement to make. Changes must be made, and I have no doubt that the great change which we have met to discuss, is not the only one. As for the question of the policy of the 'Unionist' party remains now what it has always been. We have lost the services of a valiant advocate of our cause."

"I have lost a man around whom the sentiments of the party have for many years crystallized. Nevertheless, I feel we would do wrong to despair, do wrong to have even the faintest misgiving as to the future of the cause he has served the unity in the future which has never been wanting in our ranks in the past, the inherent vitality of our cause will make up for any weakness I am aware of in the arms which have sustained it."

DANIELS' CASE IS PUT OVER.

Judge Ellsworth Will Begin the Trial Next Thursday Morning.

Owing to illness Judge Melvin will not try the case of County Assessor Henry P. Dalton.

When the case came up this morning Judge Melvin's court it was continued by consent to Thursday, July 17, by which time it is expected Judge Ellsworth will have returned and will try the case.

When the matter was called Attorney Fitzgerald said:

"In that matter, if it please the court, the last time this case was called, I was allowed to go over because of the engagement of Mr. Snook and Mr. Hill, who are associated with me in the Police Court, and because the testimony in the case in the Police Court would be practically the same, and it was consented that the case would go over to this morning. The case in the Police Court comes on today and will probably be finished this afternoon. If this is true, this case can go on tomorrow morning."

District Attorney Allen—I understand that Judge Melvin is under the weather and that Judge Ellsworth has consented to take the case.

Judge Melvin—Yes, I conferred with Judge Ellsworth about the case last Saturday and he said he would try the case. He said he expected to return to Oakland by the 17th.

Allen—Both sides are anxious to try the case as soon as possible, but under the circumstances, we do not feel that your honor would be justified in going ahead, because we think the case will exact a considerable strain.

Dr. Porter told me that the only way I will be able to do my full work will be to take a rest of two weeks.

Allen—Mr. Dalton is not here. He is probably down stairs.

Fitzgerald—Mr. Dalton should be in Court.

At this juncture Dalton came into Court.

Judge Melvin—We had better continue this case to Thursday. In the meantime, I will wire Judge Ellsworth. Allen—I think that would suit Mr. Porter.

Fitzgerald—Mr. Dalton is anxious to have the case tried as soon as possible, but we see no other way than to have the case go over to Thursday and to that we consent.

Judge Melvin—Very well, the case may go over to Thursday for trial by consent.

INSTANTLY KILLED IN A SHAFT.

CALISTOGA, July 14.—W. F. Fisher, proprietor of the Calistoga Water Works fell down a shaft in a well at the reservoir and was instantly killed. The shaft is about 100 feet deep, with seventy feet of water, and he was going down a ladder which gave way. Deceased was a pioneer, native of Ohio and aged 65 years. He leaves a wife and daughter.

HOT STEW IN LOCAL POLITICS.

Frank Barnet Starts the Liveliest Kind of a Row in the Local Field.

The local political pot has been set to boiling at a furious rate, and stirring times are promised in the near future. As not infrequently happens in politics, the storm center has suddenly developed in an unexpected quarter, and caused sudden sharp cleavages and alignments that were undreamed of a week ago.

Frank Barnet's announcement of his candidacy for County Clerk is what has stirred up the commotion and caused a break-up in former political ties that may result in a battle royal extending to other county offices. To begin with, Barnet's stronghold is the Forty-eighth Assembly District, which is also a part of Frank Leavitt's Senatorial District, and Will Church's Supervisorial District. Assemblyman Joe Kelly has been laying pipe for two years to succeed Church, and Barnet was his friend. Leavitt is a friend to both Barnet and Kelly and has not been unfriendly to Cook. Kelly has been a warm friend of J. P. Cook, Chief Deputy Clerk, who is a candidate to succeed Frank C. Jordan, and recently their forces have stood together in matters of organization and the preliminary skirmishes which always precede a campaign. Hitherto no opposition has been made to Cook's candidacy.

Now comes Frank Barnet, the friend and supporter of Joe Kelly, declaring himself a candidate for County Clerk against Jack Cook, the friend and political ally of Joe Kelly, and announcing that he proposes to make the Forty-eighth District his chosen battle ground. The riddle is to find Joe Kelly.

It is understood that Church is practically out of the fight to succeed himself, or rather was out of the fight practically. He had made no public announcement of the fact, but he has privately stated that he would probably withdraw. What he will do now remains to be seen. Whether he stays in the fight or not for Supervisor, he will be for Barnet against Cook, whom he accuses of having meddled in his district at the last primary election.

Senator Leavitt will stand by Barnet through thick and thin, and so will Church. If Kelly lines up with Barnet, he will have no opposition from the Churches and Senator Leavitt. But if he maintains his alliance with Cook he will be fought from "end to end" throughout the Supervisorial district by Barnet, Leavitt and Church.

Another factor in the fight is J. Cal Ewing, who is a candidate for another term as Auditor. He has had no opposition thus far, and will probably have none if he keeps his hands off the Clerkship fight.

Leavitt's position is a rather independent one, as no opposition has been made to his re-nomination. He has no desire to fight either Kelly or Ewing, but in his district will support a delegation put up in the interest of himself and Barnet. If Kelly and Ewing wish to support that delegation with the assurance of having its support in the Convention, well and good, but if they join forces with another delegation put up in the interest of Cook, Leavitt says he will make his fight with Barnet.

That is the situation at present, but how the line up will ultimately be is a problematical matter at present. It remains to be seen whether any other county officers will be drawn into the fight, though there is some gossip to the effect that the judicial nominations may get finally entangled in the affair.

Kelly has not yet signified his intentions and neither has Ewing, though the latter intimates strongly that he will stay with Cook.

It is rumored that Film Hinds will be a candidate to succeed Supervisor Church.

C. F. MURDOCK WANTS THE COUNTY CLERK INVESTIGATED.

Frank C. Jordan and Jack Cook Invite an Investigation of the County Clerk's Office.

C. F. Murdock has sent to Gilbert Curless, foreman of the Grand Jury, a letter requesting that the Grand Jury make an investigation of the County Clerk's office. He also mailed a copy of the letter to District Attorney Allen. Mr. Murdock is chairman of the executive committee of the United Labor party. At one time he was Assistant Chief of the Fire Department, and last year was poll tax collector, being appointed by Assessor Dalton.

His letter to the Grand Jury is as follows:

"Oakland, Cal., July 12, 1902.

"Gilbert Curless, Esq., Foreman of the Grand Jury—Dear Sir: As a citizen and elector of Alameda county I request the immediate investigation by the Grand Jury, of which you are foreman, into the conduct and management of the County Clerk's office."

"First—It appears from the testimony adduced in the police court, during the examination of G. B. Daniels for felony and given wide publicity through public prints, that J. P. Cook, head Deputy County Clerk, is authorized to purchase all supplies for which the county has paid and which supplies have never been furnished."

"Second—It is a matter of common notoriety and public rumor that books, blanks and sundry articles have been most extravagantly ordered and furnished, until the storage capacity of the vaults and cellars of the County Clerk's office are strained for accommodation. The cost of these supplies to the county amounts to many thousands of dollars. It is a well known fact that Mr. Jordan for a long time has given to the affairs of the office little or none of his personal attention, and that the whole conduct and management of it has been turned over to his head deputy, Mr. Cook."

"It is openly charged that under this management supplies have been ordered for the office for a quarter of a century or more ahead. The situation, therefore, is that in some instances the county has paid for what it never received; in others that it has paid for what it did not need. The purpose of such extravagant waste of public moneys likewise demands investigation at the hands of your jury."

"The laboring man bears burdens of taxation heavy enough, even when the moneys are honestly and wisely expended, but it is the greatest sufferer when those moneys are squandered or stolen."

"The necessity of putting and keeping honest men in public offices, and therefore, as a representative of organized labor in this county, I respectfully request that you immediately call together the Grand Jury and take up the investigation of the matters indicated. Very truly yours,

"C. F. MURDOCK."

County Clerk Jordan makes the following statement in contradiction of Murdock's charges:

JORDAN'S REPLY.

"I have read the charges made by Mr. Murdock. We welcome the Grand Jury and a full investigation of the office. Every dollar paid out by the county has been for supplies furnished. I am the man who has ordered these supplies and I alone am responsible."

"Mr. Cook is my Chief Deputy and the county never had a more faithful, efficient, servant and even the 'politicians' will have trouble in convincing the people of Alameda county that he is not worthy to succeed me."

"This office is well supplied with stationery and I alone am responsible for its condition."

"Now for the politics of it. I have been County Clerk for eight years and the people—the tax-payers—are not demanding this investigation; the 'politicians' are. They are trying to reach Cook and incidentally to burn me. I don't think the people are blind to the moves being made on the political checker-board in Alameda County. If they are, their eyes may be opened soon."

"I don't think that it is the burdens of the laboring man that has moved Mr. Murdock to action, but I do think that if an attempt is made to hasten to me that it may so refresh memories as to enable the Grand Jury to investigate along other lines and as to the conduct of other men; and while it is doing so the people will be more interested and benefitted more, than by this investigation of the Clerk's office."

"The Grand Jury may not reach certain men, but public opinion will."

"FRANK C. JORDAN."

COOK'S STATEMENT.

"Any charge that I have aided in the passing of fictitious claims against the county is false," said Deputy County Clerk Cook. "I have never authorized the payment of a bill unless I have known the supplies for which it called had been delivered and that the expenditure was warranted. I have absolutely no fear of any investigation that might be had of the conduct of our office."

CAMPANILLE IN VENICE A TOTAL WRECK.

Great Structure Falls to the Ground Without Warning.

VENICE, July 14.—The Campanille (detached bell tower) of St. Mark's Church, ninety-eight meters high, collapsed at 10:40 this morning and fell with a great crash into the Piazza. The Campanille, which was entirely detached from the cathedral, collapsed where it stood and is now a heap of ruins.

The cathedral and palace of The Domes are quite safe, but a corner of the royal palace was damaged.

Repairs on the Campanille were to have commenced today. It is feared there was some loss of life. The ruins are surrounded by a cordon of troops.

The first intimation of danger was the sudden appearance yesterday of a longitudinal crack in the corner of the wall facing the clock tower and the breaking of two windows. A concert which had been arranged to be held on the Piazza yesterday, was stopped by order of the Prefect, with the object of preventing a concourse of people.

The ruins are piled up to a height of 100 feet and the Piazza and the adjoining squares are covered with debris and dust.

The Campanille stood opposite the church of the Cathedral of St. Mark's. It was founded in 888 and registered in 1,329. The Loggetta or Vestibule, on the east side of the Campanille was once a rendezvous of the nobility and afterwards a waiting-room for the guards during the sessions of the great council. There were bronze statues of Peace, Apollo, Mercury and Pallas on the coping of the Campanille and its fine bronze doors were much admired. At the top of the tower a fire-watchman with a telescope was continually stationed.

TRANSIT GETS A FRANCHISE.

TO BUILD IN FOUR MONTHS FROM BERKELEY TO THE COUNTY LINE.

The Board of Supervisors this morning passed to wit an ordinance granting F. M. Smith and P. C. Havens of the Oakland Transit Consolidated a franchise to operate an electric railroad between the north end of Berkeley on the San Pablo avenue road to the limit of the county on the north.

The Transit Company was the only bidder for the franchise. The sum of $1,000 was paid over in gold immediately after the ordinance granting the franchise had been adopted.

Supervisors Church, Homer, Talcott and chairman Mitchell voted in the affirmative. Supervisor Howe was absent. By the terms of the franchise the Transit Company is required to begin the work of actual construction within four months. It is made imperative upon the company to operate at least three cars daily over the new lines of the company. The franchise runs for a period of fifty years.

Before the ordinance was finally passed the Board resolved itself into a Committee of the Whole to consider the legality of the form of the franchise.

District Attorney Allen stated to the committee that all the legal requirements had been complied with.

Immediately afterward the ordinance was passed.

The franchise makes it possible for the Transit Company to complete a portion of its plans for having an electric line around the Bay to San Jose.

Attorney Euge represented the Transit Company.

TRACY FIGHTS WITH DEPUTIES.

Battles With Officers of the Law and Makes His Escape on a Freight Train.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 14.—While the deputies were confident today that Tracy must be near the end of his rope, the information received this morning is not encouraging.

Tracy was twice reported near the Indian reservation, close to Enumclaw, last evening.

This morning the posse accompanying the dogs rushed from Kanasket to Buckley on a false clue, only to find a message that Tracy had exchanged shots with the deputies near Palmer.

The men and dogs at once started back to Palmer by way of Enumclaw. The following message was received at 11 a. m.

"Enumclaw, July 14.—After a wild ride from Buckley to Enumclaw the posse caught the freight to Palmer."

Word has been received here that Tracy fought a battle with two deputies at the Palmer school-house last night.

"No particulars or names are known. 'Almost anything may be expected now."

"Tracy worked a neat game on the officers in order to get to Palmer. He was within a mile of that place yesterday morning when he learned that the officers were there."

He then worked back towards Enumclaw and showed himself on the road to Buckley.

"He was in the woods and while officers were stationing guards, he ran a mile and boarded a freight train on a grade and proceeded to Palmer, where he is no doubt making for the Stampede Pass."

WORK STARTS AT THE MINES.

FOREIGNERS HAVE NO FEAR IN GOING INTO THE TRAPS.

JOHNSTOWN, Penn., July 14.—Operations were started today in every section of the Rolling Mill mine of the Cambria Steel Company, except the Klondike, where the fatal explosion Thursday last occurred.

A majority of the men on hand when the first trap went into the mine were foreigners. They did not seem to have the least hesitation in re-entering. A full force of men is expected to be at work before night, with the exception of the Klondike, where a large force is still clearing up the falls and repairing the brattices. The incident probably will not be held before Thursday. No more bodies have been discovered and the mine apparently has been explored fully. Nevertheless, some miners assert that many bodies will still be found.

PEARY RELIEF EXPEDITION SHIP.

The Windward will stop first at Portland, Me., and then at Sydney, where Mrs. Peary and her daughter will be taken aboard.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—General Chaffee has been relieved of the command in the Philippines and ordered to the command of the Department of the East, by an order issued today by Secretary Root. The order is as follows:

On being relieved Major General Chaffee will, with his authorized aide, report to Governor's Island, New York, and assume command of the Department of the East."

POUNCEFOTE'S REMAINS ARRIVE IN ENGLAND.

The body was landed soon after 11 o'clock. Full naval honors were paid to the remains of Lord Poncefote. His widow followed the coffin from the wharf to the train which started for Newark-on-Trent, where the funeral will take place tomorrow.

BOLD ROBBERS HOLD UP TRAIN.

Bandits Stand the Passengers in Line and Relieve Them of Money and Valuables.

SALIDA, Colorado, July 14.—A report was received here shortly before noon today to the effect that the Denver & Rio Grande Narrow Gauge passenger train, which left here early last night, was held up and robbed by several men near Sargents, west of Marshall Pass. The robbery occurred at 5:30 o'clock today at Chester, Colorado, 250 miles west of Denver. The engineer was compelled at the point of a revolver, to stop the train by masked men who had climbed over the tender. Two safes in the express car were blown open but it is claimed by the officers of the Rio Grande Express Company that the robbers failed to secure any plunder from the safe. The passengers were compelled to alight from the cars and line up along the tracks in the canyon and they were relieved of their money and valuables. Many of the passengers threw away their money, watches and jewelry among the rocks before the robbers reached them. There were many tourists among the passengers and it is presumed that the losses of some were heavy. The train was the West-bound Narrow Gauge passenger train which left Denver last night. It is not known how many passengers were aboard but the cars were all filled. The scene of the robbery is in a wild mountainous country at the foot of Marshall Pass on the West slope, and the robbers of whom there were four, escaped into the mountains. The four bandits mounted horses and disappeared in the ravines that lead into Marshall Pass. The train returned to Salida. The sheriff at Salida and sheriffs of adjoining counties were notified and a dozen possees are in pursuit of the robbers. REPORT OF THE ROBBERY. DENVER, July 14.—General Manager Herbert of the Denver and Rio Grande, has received the following report of the train robbery: "Train No. 315 was held up by four masked men at the point known as Marshall's Switch, two miles east of Chester, at 5:30 a. m. today. They blew open two safes in the baggage car and demanded the silver and gold. The express company advises no money loss—mail car not molested. All passengers were ordered to go to the rear of the train and get out on the ground. After using three charges of giant powder, the robbers succeeded in opening the safes and took the contents. They went back to the passengers and then relieved them of their money and jewelry. Many of the passengers threw their money, watches and jewelry away from the train and the robbers reached them. There were many tourists among the passengers and it is presumed that the losses of some were heavy. The train was the West-bound Narrow Gauge passenger train which left Denver last night. It is not known how many passengers were aboard but the cars were all filled. would be required," said Snook. "In times of prosperity there are not many mortgages," he pointed out. The question was finally modified as follows: "Would the sixteen mortgage books constituting this lot be sufficient to transact the business of the Assessor's office?" "Are they the same as those?" "I can't say exactly; the property in the outside books is described by metes and bounds and there are no blocks." "Including these would the sixteen books now in use be sufficient to transact the business for the years 1901 and 1902?" "They might, but it would be a close shave."

HUSBAND CALLED. Robinson was temporarily withdrawn and Charles Husband, Deputy County Treasurer, called. Husband testified that the money for the first Oakes order was paid to J. B. Lanktree and the second to the Bank of San Leandro on November 12, 1901. CHARLES N. WALTERS. Charles N. Walters, paying teller of the First National Bank, was called. "Who were these two checks (the checks drawn in favor of George A. Oakes by J. B. Lanktree) paid to?" asked Allen. "To G. E. Daniels," "When were they paid by your bank?" "August 27, 1901." "Mr. Robinson resumed the stand and testified that he received the fifty-nine plat books from the Enquirer some time in September, 1901, to the best of his recollection. "How many mortgage books are in use?" asked Snook. "Twenty on each one." "Does that include the outside books?" "Yes." Case proceeding.

At a distance from each warehouse was a company of pickets posted to keep freight from entering or leaving the sheds. Nearer the depots were guards of police on duty to protect the men in the warehouses and to quell any disturbance which might arise. # COURT MARTIAL WALLER AND DAY

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The incoming Philippine mail brings the full written record of the proceedings in the court-martial cases of Major L. W. T. Walker and Lieutenant John Horace Arthur Day of the marine corps, growing out of the killing of some native bearers or cargadores in Samar. The records show that Major Waller was acquitted of the charge of murder, but that Gen. Chaffee, declaring that "there had been a mis-carriage of justice in this case," disapproved their finding and the acquittal, with the exception that Waller should not have been found guilty of murder the court should have included a lesser defense. General Chaffee's declaration is very strong and he says with the exception of three who deserted, no overt acts were committed by the arguados but on the contrary, "those sent to their death were not longer able to hear them, and to render, in their impassive way such services as denoted the conviction that, without their assistance, many of the marines who now survive would also have perished."

COLONIAL FURNITURE IN AMERICA.

In making a tour of the numerous shops of the city in which antique furniture is sold, the inexperienced visitor often expresses surprise that so little of it is of strict colonial origin; that is, that there are very few pieces of this kind that were brought over from this country more than 100 years ago. There are many beautiful, genuine pieces of the same date and identical in pattern with our colonial heirlooms, but they have been brought from England and the continent within recent years, for the trade. They are about the same in price, or a little higher, because they are usually in a better state of preservation than the pieces which were in this country during colonial days. In some old records, prepared by a diligent collector of colonial furniture, the interesting fact is discovered that in the inventories of the first seventy-five houses of Hartford, Conn., there are recorded but 15 chairs. This included the time from 1611 to 1653. The scarcity of chairs is attributed to the limited facilities for transportation of the early settlers. This state of affairs made the use of stools as seats very general, and also accounts for the great popularity of the old chest, which was usually the center of the parlor, box, or trunk, and served the double purpose, when in the home, of a receptacle for linen and other articles and a bench or seat for two or more persons. Another cause of the higher price of the old imported pieces is that they are often of the finer and more fragile patterns, and were originally of more intrinsic value than the pieces brought over by our forefathers with a view to active service. Of course, the historic value of even a common piece of furniture that was a part of an American colonial household is of greater import to the patriotically inclined, but it is often impossible to develop any certain information concerning the antiquity of a piece of furniture, and the examples of the furniture of that time, and for better condition of the individual piece, the favor has lately been given to the importations of the colonial furniture. A considerable amount of the carved oak furniture of the early 18th century was made here and, naturally, is of cruder workmanship than the old English make.—New York Evening Post.

SALISBURY'S RETIREMENT.

The long fore-shadowed retirement of the Marquis of Salisbury from the Premiership of Great Britain has been accompanied by two things eminently characteristic of the retiring statesman. In going out of office the noble Marquis advanced his nephew to the head of the government and put the nose of Joey Chamberlain out of joint. The Cecil family has always been intensely aristocratic and intensely selfish. While Lord Salisbury closely watched the currents of public opinion and, as all successful leaders in democratic governments must do, shaped his course largely in accordance with popular desire, he made little attempt to conceal his contempt for the masses. With daring cynicism he sometimes in public addresses came very near openly expressing this contempt. He was equally bold in his contempt for moral abstractions in politics. "According to his view, the moral law did not apply to the science of government, and in this he was at one with Disraeli, and the antithesis of Gladstone, whose conscience made him inconsistent and whose ideals sometimes made him impractical."

But Salisbury is a great man and a strong man, and has been a notable figure in British public life for more than half a century, and a statesman of the first rank ever since 1863. After the famous Berlin conference Bismarck called him a wooden lath painted to look like iron, but the German Chancellor did not understand him. Salisbury is a man of iron, who looked sometimes like wood, and who could be supplie as an end on occasions. An unbending air and rigid attitude gave a false appearance to his suppleness, and his exclusiveness and cynical disregard of popular clamor belied the pliability of his policy and the subtlety of his mind.

It has always been a family trait of the Cecils to help one another over the styles of government preference. They have an inherited taste for politics and a genius for public affairs. It has long been apparent that the late Marquis was keeping his nephew Arthur J. Balfour in training to succeed him. Balfour has been the Conservative leader in the Commons for more than a dozen years, a position in which he was held as much by his own talents as he has by the influence of his family and the support of the aristocratic element; for while Balfour is a commoner, he is a representative of the privileged class. He represents an ancient Scottish house, as well as the haughty English Cecils.

Balfour's elevation puts a damper, if not an extinguisher, on Joseph Chamberlain's aspiration to be Prime Minister. Salisbury has never liked "Bummagen Joe," as Chamberlain is derisively called by his enemies, although he had to give him one of the most important places in the government in return for the help Chamberlain gave in overthrowing his old leader, Gladstone. As Home Secretary for the Colonies, Chamberlain made himself a power. By intriguing with Cecil Thodes, he brought on the war with the South African republics, which has just been concluded by their extinguishment as independent nationalities. This has been in accordance with traditional Tory policy, but Lord Salisbury has never forgotten that the ironmonger of Birmingham is a plebeian, and was once a radical of radicals, a follower of Gladstone and a connoisseur of rank and privilege. In retiring, therefore, he doubtless took a sardonic pleasure in giving a kick to his wicked partner while boasting his own flesh and blood into the chair he had just vacated. Chamberlain will probably find a good place in his disappointment, but he is likely to avenge it at the first opportunity, for he is both able and unscrupulous. The Chamberlains of the type of Harcourt and Morley have never ceased to regard him as a traitor who proved treacher to his principles and false to his family. Nevertheless the Balfours are family Scotts, who know how to handle a dagger with their claws and are not afraid when it comes to crowding on the stair to riches and power.

REGISTER, VOTERS!
Notwithstanding the numerous warnings given out through the press, a great many citizens appear to be still ignorant of the fact that they cannot vote at the primaries on the 12th of August next unless they are registered ten days prior to that date. About 10,000 voters in Alameda county have failed to register up to this time. The law requires all primaries to be held on the same day under the same set of election officers, and failure to register by August 2 means a sacrifice of the right to vote at the primaries. Men who fail to register and vote at the primaries have no right to complain about the character of the nominations. A citizen who neglects his duty has no right to object when things do not go to suit him. It is a fundamental fact in our system that government begins in the primary, and citizens leave to others the duty of delegating and selecting candidates whom they cannot expect candidates to dominate and policies to enact. It is that every citizen should register once and vote at the primary on. Remember August 2 is the day for registration.

It is not amiss to remark that this city is still badly in need of public improvements.

FIFTY YEARS
IN THE COUNTYWM. BARRY CELEBRATES THE ANNIVERSARY OF HIS ARRIVAL HERE.

In celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of his arrival in Alameda County, William Barry, County Horticultural Commissioner, gave a banquet Saturday afternoon at Centerville to about sixty guests, his pioneer friends and close neighbors. It was on July 12, 1852, that Mr. Barry settled in Washington Township, and there he resided continuously for a half-century.

Mr. Barry arrived in California in May, 1852. Two months later he reached Jarvis Landing on a schooner and walked to Mission San Jose. He took part in the first election that was held in Alameda County. From that time Mr. Barry has watched the county grow from a mere cattle-grazing and stock-raising district, overrun with horses and steers, to one of the richest counties in the State, with a diversity of resources, agricultural and horticultural, that are unequalled.

When Mr. Barry arrived in the new county Oakland was nothing but an oak-studded grove, with sparsely settled homes. The half-century pioneer is now one of the most prominent orchardists of the county. His home is at Niles. For seventeen years he has been Horticultural Commissioner of Alameda County, and in such capacity is deemed one of the leading men in this section.

His guests of Saturday came from Alviso, Mission San Jose, Union City and other points in the township. Besides Mr. Barry there are now only two men residing in Washington who were there when he arrived. These old residents are James Hawley and D. D. Kenyon.

SHOP NEARLY BURNED.
The barber shop owned by J. Bridge came near being destroyed by fire one day last week and was saved only by the prompt action of the proprietor. The walls of the shop were covered with decorations of tissue paper, which in some unknown manner caught fire, and before the paper could be pulled down the flames had reached the ceiling. After five minutes of quick work, Bridge and his assistant managed to save the building.

GOOD WORK OF DEPARTMENT.
The members of the Fruitvale Fire Department have been doing considerable good work recently. Saturday they put out what promised to be a serious grass fire at the corner of the County road and cherry street. The hose cut left the fire-house within five minutes after the alarm had sounded, which is very rapid work considering the fact that the department is wholly volunteer and the members are scattered about town.

CELEBRATED BIRTHDAY.
Landlord H. P. Nielson, of the Central Hotel, celebrated his birthday Saturday night. He had the hotel filled with friends and a most enjoyable evening was spent at games and dancing. A feast followed the dancing and it was an early Sunday morning before all the guests left.

HAYWARDS WANTS
IMPROVEMENTSMORE HYDRANTS AND ARC LIGHTS DEMANDED BY THE PEOPLE.

HAYWARDS, July 14.—The general demand for better fire protection for Haywards has interested the Town Trustees in the matter to such an extent, that, within a short time, active steps will be taken by them to improve the present system. Haywards has grown rapidly within the past few years, but town improvements have not kept pace with private growth to the extent that certain portions of Haywards, in which there is poor fire protection, the number of houses has increased, until it is now imperative that the matter be taken up at once. Numerous complaints are daily being made by residents of these portions of town which will undoubtedly result in a speedy remedy.

One locality in particular is the district at the foot of Castro street. For years the town has been paying for a hydrant at the corner of Castro and Grace streets, that has been utterly useless as it connects with a two-inch main, which would be useless in a fire. A four-inch main and new hydrant will be requested for that corner. In the other direction on Castro street, the situation is very much the same, there being no hydrant nearer to property beyond the Mr. Eden road, a distance of three blocks to the boundary line.

On upper B street there is no hydrant beyond Fifth street and it is ten blocks from that street to the town limits.

Another matter will also be called to the attention of the Town Trustees shortly, namely the securing of several more arc lights for sections of the town that are poorly lighted. Petition will be presented to the Board requesting that these lights be put in. Haywards is now paying $120 a month for seventeen arc lights, which is $50 cheaper than was being paid to the old light company for the same number of lamps. For this reason, the citizens are of the opinion that the town can afford to pay for a few additional lights. It is understood that the petition will be presented to the Trustees at their next regular meeting, requesting that a light be placed at the extreme end of B street near the station.

CANNERY OPENED TODAY.
After being closed for one week, the Hattie B. Rogers' cannery at Alvarado, which is now coming in quite rapidly. As the "cots" were not ripe enough to open a large crop of the season came to a close, the first of last week, the cannery closed down for the week until the apricots would be in shape to can.

At a recent meeting of the Haywards Fire Department two new members were elected. They are Martin Welsh and R. A. Koles. The department is in a flourishing condition.

The following is the list of unclaimed letters in the local postoffice: Miss Edna Brown, Mrs. S. E. Dean, Miss Myrtle Johnson, John Dwyer, J. S. Dwyer, J. S. # PIONEER AND SOLDIER SUMMONED BY DEATH.

Prominent Alamedan Succumbs to Heart Failure—Boys Run Down by a Train—Alameda's Win.

ALAMEDA, July 14.—Martin Van Buren Gardner, who came West with the Government guard under the famous Captain Crawford in 1861, and who was connected with railroad and steamboat lines for many years on the coast, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at his home here, heart failure. Death was due to heart disease. Although he had been ailing for a month past, he took to his bed only an hour and a half before he expired. At 2 o'clock he was in his garden, and at 4:30 a. m. he was dead.

He complained of feeling ill and was confined to the lounge while his wife went to Park street on an errand. He had a bad attack during her absence. After his death, Mrs. Gardner found a note pinned to an envelope: "I think I am dying. Good-bye." When she returned he took to his bed, but said nothing as to his condition which would give cause for serious alarm. Later his wife saw him gasping and ran along the street to telephone for Dr. H. M. Pugh. When she returned to the house he was dead. Death was due to heart disease.

Deceased was a native of Illinois, N. Y., aged 66 years. He was the youngest of fifteen children. Only one of the large family now survive, Mrs. Hughson of Alameda, N. Y., who is aged 80 years. Gardner was quartermaster of the United States troops under Captain Crawford that escorted emigrant trains between Omaha and Walla Walla in 1861, and participated in many stirring adventures. He had resided in San Francisco for thirty years, coming to this city to reside about four years ago. Besides the widow, Mrs. Mary A. Gardner, he had no relatives on this coast.

Deceased was well known among railroad men, although he had retired from active life for some years. For three years he was Pacific Coast agent for the Chicago and Rock Island railway. At one time he was employed as quartermaster of the United States troops under Captain H. M. Pugh. When she returned to the house he was dead. Death was due to heart disease.

TWO BOYS RUN DOWN BY TRAIN WHILE DRIVING.

ALAMEDA, July 14.—The broad gauge local train in charge of Conductor Murphy, collided with a rail wagon on Railroad avenue, between Park and Oak streets, at about 4:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and the occupants of the vehicle, two boys, had a narrow escape from instant death. The wagon belonged to Jacob Sauter and his two sons, Henry, aged 15, and Joseph, aged 11 years, were on the seat at the time.

The boys were driving toward Park street and the local train was moving in the same direction. The accident occurred midway in the block on the south side. At that point the wagon was struck and there is no room at the spot for a train and wagon to pass each other.

Henry, the older boy, was driving, and he did not hear the approaching train until it was close by, when the engineer yelled "Look out!" and the boys were thrown from the wagon.

His little brother remained on the wagon and, although it was completely wrecked, he miraculously escaped with slight bruises. The horse received fatal injuries and had to be shot later by the police. Part of the engine was derailed and the gears and wheels of two cars torn away in the smashup. The train was delayed for some time by the accident.

ALAMEDA CRICKET CLUB DEFEATS PACIFIC PLAYERS.

ALAMEDA, July 14.—Pacific and Alamedas fought to a finish yesterday at the Webster street grounds, Alameda. After a brilliantly fought game, Alameda won by a score of 10 to 6.

Had Pacific captured the game the Brown pennant was the club decoration, and it was perhaps the over-undue of three straight wins that wrought the downfall of the bridesmaids.

Alamedas won the toss and went in first. Fred Scott, who was in first wicket down, was sent to the other end by his side. By a magnificent exhibition of timely hitting and stone-wall defense the youngsters defied all kinds of bowling. Scott's contribution amounted to 50, which, together with a run-out, just gave his fellow members 21 to swell up on.

Pacific started out well, although Lammie retired for a "duck" without incurring the score a run. Kortlang and Cuddy, however, were in the first stand, to being bowled on the eleventh ball at the fall of the third wicket. None of the rest of the team could negotiate the bowler.

MOODY DEARING SEEKS DIVORCE

HE WANTS TO BE SEPARATED FROM HUSBAND OF A SINGLE DAY.

Moody A. Dearing, over whom two men have been convicted of crimes, today commenced suit for a divorce from her husband, John E. Dearing, alleging desertion as a ground of action.

It was on account of alleged slanderous remarks concerning Mrs. Dearing that her brother, Fred Scott, a few months ago, fired a shot at Harry Wilson, a colored barber, at Eleventh and Washington streets. Scott was convicted of the crime and is now serving a year in the County Jail.

During Scott's trial Wilson made certain remarks concerning Mrs. Dearing that subsequently led to his arrest on a charge of assault. He was tried and convicted and sentenced by Judge Melick to five years' imprisonment at San Quentin. An appeal to the Supreme Court in his case is now pending.

Mrs. Dearing was married to her husband in 1898. She alleges that he deserted her on the day of their marriage and that they have not since lived together.

OSCAR WILDE PLAY AT THE COLUMBIA

Oscar Wilde's brilliant comedy, "The Importance of Being Earnest" (Ernest) will be the attraction this week at the San Francisco Columbia Theatre. Two men love a girl, whose future husband's first name, she has determined, must be Ernest, and neither of them was so christened, albeit each lets the fair one presume he is so cognomened, and each has to be spry to keep officious friends from disclosing the true state of affairs. Obviously, here grows a plot in which fun is frequently engendered.

Henry Miller is given a congenial role in this comedy drama. Four of the parts require fine character work by actresses. There is much of dainty satire in the play, and the various scenes abound in persiflage and gentle parody. Both London and New York have affixed the hall-mark of intense approval on "The Importance of Being Earnest."

There will be Wednesday and Saturday matinee performances at the Columbia of this brisk, quaint love tale from the pen of uniquely gifted Oscar Wilde.

FINED FOR BATTERY.

"Big Foot" Lewis was sentenced to pay a fine of $30 or serve fifteen days in the City Prison by Judge Smith in the Police Court this morning.

Lewis was found guilty on a charge of battery, preferred by William Mulkey, a "caddy" employed by the Southern Pacific Company, who alleged that Lewis struck him on the head with his fist when refused a free ride by Mulkey.

KINARD'S CASE GOES OVER.

In the Police Court this morning Judge Smith continued the case of C. E. Kinard, charged with embezzlement, to July 15 for argument. Kinard is a lawyer and is accused by one of his clients with having kept $40 entrusted to him.

CECIL RHODES' WILL Provides for Proper Food for Students.

Cecil Rhodes in his late will left a bequest of $50,000 for the improvement of the high table for resident fellows and tutors at Oriel College, Oxford.

"I am rejoiced to find that one millionaire has at last given some thought to the question of dietetics in educational institutions," says Elizabeth Cady Stanton in the New York Journal.

"One of the crying evils in our schools, colleges and universities is the bad system employed in feeding growing boys and girls."

"Students, above all other classes, need plenty of good, well-cooked food and a happy state of mind in anticipation of their various meals."

"Dyspepsia is one of the common diseases among the literary classes, and the foundation for this prevalent ailment is laid in our colleges and seminaries. Of what avail is a knowledge of art, science, philosophy and government when health is seriously undermined?"

All this comes from ignorance as to the kind of food element the body must have to supply the daily loss from the food which it takes in. Bread, white bread and coffee absolutely will not keep a hard brain worker well. A food expert perfected food for brain workers.

Not only in the schools but in the home should the food be looked after. The necessity of selecting food to supply proper nutrition to replace the daily loss of tissue of brain and nerves is of the greatest importance.

Grape-Nuts is the ideal food for young and old who use the brain actively; the disease of the brain being perfectly developed and the starch transformed into grape sugar in the most perfect manner.

In this condition, Grape-Nuts is ready to be quickly absorbed into the blood and tissue without taxing the intestinal digestive machinery. The phosphate of potash found in the cereals is retained, and this with albumen, supplies the elements required to build the gray matter in brain and nerve centers.

Dr. Max Grossman of New York City recently called the attention of the Board of Education to the fact that "pupils of the defective class are apt to be weak physically. Temporary aberrations are often mistaken for real diseases when they are only symptoms of physical growth, of indigestion or other maladies. Indigestion has been responsible for more than one failure in school, and its cure has often been followed by a return to truthfulness."

In its predigested form, the daily use of Grape-Nuts as cereal part of the food, aids digestion, nourishes the body, tones up the nervous system and quickens the mental faculties.

Soft stools also be banished, for it unnaturally stimulates the brain and nerves so that proper nutrition is interfered with and they cannot get sufficient rest to take the food needed for the work they must do from day to day. For the morning beverage, Postum Food Coffee should be used in place of coffee.

Let the daily breakfast, particularly at this time of the year, consist of Grape-Nuts and cream, a little fruit, a cup of Postum Food Coffee, some whole wheat bread and possibly one or two soft-boiled eggs. It is impossible to make one believe what a wonderful change in health, strength, comfort and ability comes in ten days after quitting wrong food and living on scientifically selected food.

COUNTY ROADS AND BRIDGES.

SUPERVISORS ORDER WORK OF A VERY PERMANENT CHARACTER.

Plans and specifications prepared by the County Surveyor for the construction of a state and concrete bridge over the Arroyo del Valle creek, just north of Pleasanton, were unanimously adopted by the Board of Supervisors today.

The resolution authorizing the work was introduced by Supervisor Horner. The estimated cost of the bridge is $12,000.

The construction of a modern bridge at that point has been a necessity for many years and the construction of the bridge will be an appreciated step in the direction of good roads.

BAY PARK BRIDGE.

Supervisor Talcott was authorized to have the Bay Park Bridge repaired. The bulkhead has been damaged by the high tides of the last two weeks, and will require at least half a dozen piles to be driven into the ground. The sum of $150 was appropriated for the work.

WATER PLANT TO BE BUILT.

The Board authorized the immediate construction of a water-plant to be used in sprinkling a portion of the county road in Pleasanton Road District.

TALLANT ROAD ACCEPTED.

The petition of George R. Warren and others requesting that Tallant road be accepted by the county and that the state road from Fruitvale school house be improved, was granted by the Board.

CULVERT PLANS APPROVED.

The plans and specifications for the construction of a concrete culvert in Sausal creek, across Fruitvale avenue, in the Fruitvale district, were accepted.

LIQUOR APPLICATIONS.

Frank Rosa of Centerville and Albert P. Sump of Sausalito were granted liquor licenses. D. H. Justice, Justice of the Peace, and William G. Alameda made irregular applications and will have to apply again.

PRISONERS' CREDITS.

Jacob Wagner, an inmate of the County Jail, applied for and was granted fifteen days' credit for good behavior. S. Morey and James Toole, inmates of the same institution, were granted forty-five and ten days' credits respectively.

POLITICS.

Certified copies of the applications of the Republican, Democratic, Social and Prohibition parties for a place on the official primary ballot were read and placed on file.

CONTRACT LET.

C. D. Vincent, being the lowest bidder, was awarded the contract to put in a concrete culvert at Sausal creek, at a cost not to exceed $3,000.

ADJUDICATION.

What a rush there was all day Saturday at the Mr. J. Keller Company.

It proves when Mr. Keller announces anything, it means a lot. The public could hardly be waited upon, so great was the rush. This big sale will continue in both of the big stores until the entire stock will be sold out. 1025-1030 Market street, San Francisco, 1157-1159 Washington st., Oakland.

FATHER AND SON IN POLICE COURT.

Father and son stood in the Police Court dock this morning, the son to answer to the charge of drunkenness and disturbing the peace, and the father on the latter charge only. The boy, James McCloskey, not yet 21, was sentenced by Police Judge Smith to serve three days in the City Prison on each charge and in the case of the father, John McCloskey, judgment was suspended.

LAKE IS CONVICTED OF EMBEZZLEMENT.

In the Police Court this morning William Lake was convicted of embezzlement and was sentenced by Police Judge Smith to pay a fine of $20 or serve fifteen days in the City Prison.

Lake, who is a collector, and was employed by J. Milton, a butcher at Tenth and Center streets to collect his bills, confessed that he had collected for his employer, who asserted that he had failed to return money collected from his customers.

E. B. CLEMENT CALLED BY DEATH

CLOSE OF CAREER OF A WELL-KNOWN CITIZEN AND EDUCATOR.

Ephraim Beeman Clement, a pioneer of this State, and prominent member of the City Board of Education, died at his home, 1703 Telegraph avenue, yesterday morning, surrounded by the immediate members of his family.

He had been ill for the last two years, and during that time was constantly under the care of the family physician, Dr. J. H. Todd. He was 73 years of age and was a native of Alabama. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Frances Clement, and three children, Alpheus, W. Girard and Katherine Clement.

The deceased educator took up his residence in the city of Oakland 40 years ago, coming directly from his native State. His father, the late Joseph Clement, after whom the Clement Grammar School in San Francisco was named, preceded his son to this State by three years. Soon after the arrival of the younger Clement in this city, father and son formed a partnership and engaged in the business of searching records, an occupation followed by the son until a few years ago.

During the younger Clement's residence in this city, he was successively elected to the City Board of Education on the Democratic ticket. He never made a personal canvass during the campaigns, but permitted the people to make their choice without attempting to influence them. His worth and popularity stood him in good hand for he has returned again and again by his constituents to guard the school interests of the city.

More than two years ago, he was stricken with paralysis and since then has been a confirmed invalid. His illness necessitated his retirement from public life.

The father of the deceased, who has also passed away, was also a prominent educator. He was a member of the San Francisco Board of Education for many years and was at one time the President of the Board.

Mrs. Clement, the widow, is a daughter of the late Colonel A. F. Williams of this city. Her brother, Gardner Williams, is general manager of the De Beers diamond mines in Kimberly, South Africa.

The eldest son of the deceased, Alpheus W. Clement, is in the employ of the Northern Commercial Company in San Francisco. Miss Katherine Clement resides in her home here.

Joseph Clement, was killed in Johannesburg about two years ago by a squad of Boer soldiers, who were engaged in the capture of which he was a member.

Clement was a graduate of Rutgers College, Brunswick, N. J., and was admitted to the bar, but never practiced as an attorney.

Rencke, an aged veteran of the Civil War, residing at 1810 Edith street, in this city, dropped dead at an early hour this morning while building a fire preparatory to his morning meal. Rencke is one of the old-time residents of Berkeley. During his lifetime he held several political offices of minor importance, the last of which was United States stock-keeper in San Francisco. The deceased leaves a wife.

MONEY NEEDED FOR THE CHURCH

REV. M. M. RAY TELLS WHAT MAY BE DONE BY LIBERAL GIVING.

At St. John's Episcopal Church yesterday, Rev. M. M. Ray, the rector, delivered a sermon on the necessity of supporting the church by contributions. Among other things, he said:

"Giving has always been an integral part of worship. Ever since the Jews were commanded to bring their gifts and place them upon the altar, before making sacrifice to God, the offertory has been as much a part of the service as the prayers or hymns. It is only in these times that a worshipper would think of approaching the Lord empty-handed, or of offering Him nickels and dimes, and that grudgingly."

"It is too often considered an impertinence for the priest to speak of money. He feels an embarrassment; he approaches the subject in a speaking manner. I know the feeling. Too many of my brothers know it."

One man has complained that the passing of the collection plate disturbs his serenity of mind, breaks in upon the religious fervor and spiritual absorption. It is enough, he says, that the jingle of coin should follow a man six days. It smacks too much of the shop, the store, the counting-house to be a welcome sound on the day of rest, in the peace of the Lord's house."

"I wonder if much of the money earned during the week is fit to offer upon God's altar of devotion."

"Unless we give of our substance, we are not obeying the Lord's command. If we, the richest denomination in the United States, were to give as a body as God has prospered us, we might evangelize the world. We have been given much, and much will be required of us."

DEFEAT OF LOVE
TOLD IN PULPIT

SERMON BY REV. C. L. BROWN
IN CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

The pulpit of the First Congregational Church was occupied yesterday by Reverend Clarence T. Brown of Salt Lake City in the absence of the pastor, Rev. C. L. Brown. He spoke on "The Defeat of Love."

"How can I let thee go, O Israel?" Hosea 1:2. "O Israel, thou hast destroyed thyself," Hosea 1:2.

"These words under the anguish of a defeated love, Hosea had learned about God not only in the school of history, in the laws of his people, and in his own life of prayer, but from a love that had suffered in a love that had been betrayed and spurned. He loved Gomer with all his heart, and in her waywardness pleaded with her, for years tried to save her from her evil ways in vain. He had to admit that the moral power of love is not absolute."

His own sorrow became a parable of God's love. His mind leaped up to the great conception that love is the comprehensive attribute of the divine life. As he had loved Gomer and suffered for her waywardness, so Jehovah had loved Israel and suffered for her. And as Gomer had destroyed and spurned his love, so Israel had destroyed and spurned the great love of Jehovah.

"So far as this patient, deep-hearted far-seeing man could make out sin was defeating love and the shining soul was going its own dark way of death."

THE POOR YOUNG MAN AND THE BANKER.

"Mr. Awkward," said the trembling young man in the threadbare suit of clothes, "I have come to ask you for the hand of your daughter."

The rich banker wheeled around in his chair and looked at the presumptuous youth.

"Henry," he said kindly, "you can have her, and I will see that she supports you in better style than you have been accustomed to."—From the Chicago Tribune.

SENATOR GEO. C. PERKINS

THE WORK OF THE SESSION

Will Take No Part in Nearly Ten Millions Appropriated for State Campaign.

Complimentary Estimate of Work of Congressman Metcalf.

Senator George C. Perkins returned to his home on Vernon Heights yesterday, after his arduous, conscientious and successful labors in the United States Senate at Washington, during the past session.

He was the picture of health and there was a buoyancy in his bearing which showed that he had shaken off the fatigue which must have been experienced by reason of his ceaseless effort at the Capital of the Nation.

"The Senator arrived at an early hour and was driven in a quiet manner to his home place, the surroundings of which with lawn, parterre, and dancing fountains, sparkling bright, smiled a welcome to their owner.

"I never go away from California," said the Senator, "that I do not feel homesick, and I am, consequently, glad to return.

"When we were crossing the Sierras this morning, I got up at 3 o'clock to realize that I was again in California, and I haven't been in bed since. I feel benefited by it. I watched familiar points and places of interest in the State as we rolled along. These revived memories of recent times and of the long ago and all made me feel glad to be again in California.

"I recently paid a visit to my home in Kneeburgh, Maine, where my people lived for two hundred years. The place has become quite a summer watering place, but all my ancestors were gone. I would rather be broke in California than to own half of the old town.

TIED UP IN WASHINGTON.

"I have not left Washington for recreation for an hour since the opening of the last session.

"I have remained there all the time because of the volume of business of various kind which has been piled up to be ordinarily by a public official but more especially during a session at which so many measures of national importance have been considered for consideration as was the case during the session just closed. In previous sessions, when the adjournment would take place, I would take a run down to the sea, and enjoy a little rest but I have not been able to do that this year, and yet I feel in excellent condition. How shall I spend my vacation? Simply by getting down right at once to work.

NOT MIDDLE IN POLITICS.

The Senator was asked what he thought of the gubernatorial fight and said:

"I am glad that you have asked me that question. I am informed in a political field mainly through the newspapers. But, as one of the nine Representatives of Congress from this State, I do not deem it my duty to interfere myself or by the distribution of any patronage which I may have to dispense to influence any one, one way or another, and I have no candidates for Governor or to influence any one for or against any of the gubernatorial aspirants.

"When the Republican Convention of this State, composed of Republicans selected by the Republicans themselves, and I have no doubt, nominates for Governor will be good enough for me. I will gladly support that nominee because I have confidence that the people will select the best man whomsoever he may be, and with that selection, I shall be satisfied. I have a candidate for the place from the city of Oakland, and I have several others from other places but I shall treat them all fairly, impartially, and without prejudice, and I shall not be influenced by any one in my duty to carry out my mission and not to influence, by federal appointments, any candidate for any place of honor or dignity. It would be ill-advised in me to act otherwise and on the principle of fair play, I am not for nor against any candidate, and I shall do all that I can to protect and conserve the interests of the people who are dependent upon it.

DELEGATION DO IT.

"In my talk with you," continued the Senator, "I wish you would leave the word 'out' out. Do not say that I did this or that, but say that the proper word would not be true. However, it has been done by Congress for California during the past session, has been done because of the work done by the delegation from Congress from California. We have an able delegation there and the members have worked laboriously, earnestly and successfully, and this ended their term. I am not using my influence for any one, but I think they ought all to be congratulated."

MARE ISLAND.

"The attempts to discredit Mare Island and especially the covert purpose to remove the plant, were defeated by the progress of the work. The question which was sent out by the Committee of Commerce or Board of Trade of the State, was a threatening character and caused a great amount of prejudice against the island. I believe the island to be properly located and that it should have a proper outlet and shall do all that I can to protect and conserve the interests of the government and especially those of the people who are dependent upon it.

REPRESENTATIVE METCALF.

"Representative Metcalf is a member of Congress from California and has done a great deal for California. He is second to none. When 357 men come from all parts of the country, some of them from the West, to the respective districts, and a man stands among them as Mr. Metcalf does, it means a great deal. He is a prominent member of the House, a member of the committee, which is a most important one, and will have a great deal to do with the tariff, which will really be the next issue.

THE HARBOR.

"Regarding the harbor, we have secured an appropriation of $250,000 for the improvement of the harbor. There was $100,000 put into the bill in the House and when it came to the Senate $150,000 was added. According to the plan that sum will enable the channel to be deepened to the required depth, and that money will keep work in progress until the next appropriation, when we will be able to get the remaining $50,000 for the completion of the improvement.

PEACE IN PHILIPPINES.

"Yes, I am satisfied that 18,000 troops will be able to maintain peace in the Philippines. I base this upon the facts of the situation as they have been explained to me by Commissioner Taft, army officers and even private soldiers who have come from there. I have also been told by civilians that there will be no trouble there now, save possibly in the single island where the Mohammedans are, and there we can easily be controlled. Things are tranquil there now, save in that place.

ANOTHER TERM.

"As you ask it, I will say that I would be pleased to return to the Senate for another term. I do not want to go there, however, save in an honorable manner. I have been elected to the office and I am not averse to a fourth if the people are satisfied to give me renewed proof of their confidence in me. I have been elected to the office and I am not averse to a fourth if the people are satisfied to give me renewed proof of their confidence in me. I have been elected to the office and I am not averse to a fourth if the people are satisfied to give me renewed proof of their confidence in me.

THE PRESIDENT.

"President Roosevelt, I expect, will continue his tour of the West and I am satisfied he will be impressed with the magnitude of our sugar interests, which are to be affected with our reciprocal relations with Cuba, of which I am a warm supporter.

A SESSION'S RECORD.

"The session just ended has been a very important one on account of the measures of great public interest which have been considered. The war taxes, aggregating about $50,000,000, not included in the tariff, have been considered. A bill for the Philippines has been passed, a tariff on products of the Philippines has been considered, and the oleomargarine law has been enacted. A comprehensive scheme for securing irrigation in the arid West has been adopted; a consular service with Cuba has been established, and a canal bill has been passed.

"In recent years have so many vital questions been disposed of in a single session.

TEN MILLIONS FOR CALIFORNIA.

"The appropriations made aggregate about $75,000,000, or about $50,000,000 if we take into account the cost of the California Canal, for dredging which $18,000,000 will be needed. Of these appropriations, California gets over $5,000,000, and it is gratifying to find that nearly $10,000,000 of Government money will be expended upon public work in our State.

"Navigation has been very carefully considered, the money appropriated for the improvements of rivers and harbors aggregating $12,000,000, and $12,000,000 will be expended in lights and fog signals in the vicinity of San Francisco.

"For Mare Island Navy Yard $45,500 is appropriated. A new Customs house for San Francisco has been authorized, for which $1,000,000 is appropriated, thus insuring a handsome building, and a building in place of the old one now used by this Customs service and Postoffice.
